SKR 1st XI Team vs Brighton 24/3/2012

2011 / 2012

That Was The Season That Was

Another season not unlike the last as many of the same players competed against familiar opponents and produced similar outcomes. The core of the 2010/11 squad put their hands up for a second voyage with their skipper and mentor Fraser Stead at the helm, but the absence of wicket taking maestros, Evan and Oscar, presented an early challenge. Fortunately, cajolery and bribery paid dividends and likely replacements were soon added to the squad. Leading the new ball charge was the genuinely scary Remy Perin whose extreme height and pace were great assets (except when used against his team mates in the nets!). He was occasionally joined by legendary athlete, Steve Knuckey (when not athleting), Branford Guar (until digitally deconstructed) and Tom Bryson (onetime Year 8 champion). Shaphieh Esharc and Ben Symon were also capable of generating new ball pace when required, whilst the Lachys Price and Eddington produced some tidy spells. New recruit, Charlie Craig took to bowling like a fish to water but, sadly, his season was curtailed by injury, on the other hand, Brandon Joel's wily spin bowling only emerged from the woodwork mid season. Meanwhile, Akshay Khatri's satellites continued to tempt and deceive unwary batsmen.

The promotion of 2010/11's batting supremo Michael Gregory to the Second XI captaincy left a large whole in our batting lineup that was never really filled this season. Despite the efforts of Renato Samson, Jacob Gronsbell-Luntz, Lachy Price, Remy, Charlie, Shaphieh and newcomer, Ross Eckersley, consistency was not to be a hallmark of the middle order. Most of the runs came courtesy of the Big Four – Symon, Stead, Eddington and Seb Mundy – or from the unexpected bats of "tail-enders" Bryson and the hard hitting "Easy Kade" Main. The Big Four each had days in the sun when their characteristic batting strengths were on show, yet each also had darker days when their mojos just would not work.

Seb and Ben again shared the keeping duties and performed creditably in both defensive and offensive roles, but it was the highly charged fielding efforts of Jigz, the casual effectiveness of Renato and the all round Charlieness of Charlie that added lustre to our sessions in the field.

Thanks again to Fraser for his leadership, both on and off the field and to all the boys for the spirit in which they approached both training sessions and Saturday fixtures. The support provided by various parents was also much appreciated.

SEEN & NOTED

Remy's hard to put away bowling stint
Branford's generous bowling to the aerodynamically reshaped Niewand
Jigz avoiding bruising by allowing the ball to hit him on the shin and ankle bones
Frazer the Amazer's sharp reflex catch at sillyish mid on Renato's earth shattering fielding
Jigz delaying the run out moment to ensure optimum crowd reaction
Ashtray Khatri's deceptively dangerous pies in the sky
The Oriental Express's fancy footwork on the boundary line
Gregger's shaping up as a genuine spin bowling prospect
Benny (SKRSC elect) Symon and the Amazer both dismissed cheaply
Seb and Greggers holding the innings together with a valuable partnership
Seb latching on to some impressive on side shots (who needs an offside anyway?)
Josh O'Sullivan's brief but eventful innings
Branford's even briefer appearance (...and he didn't even offer a shot!)
Eddo and Jigz contributing useful middle order runs
Cade opening his already broad shoulders to strike a few firm blows
Remy helping himself to the fruit on the side board
Akshay demonstrating an imaginative approach to the art of batting

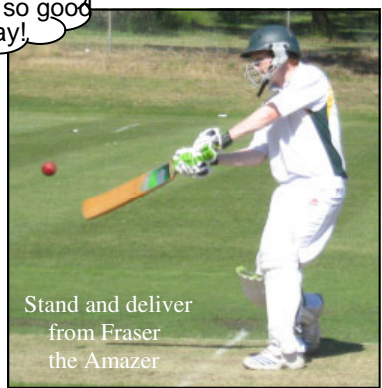

I hope this helmet can stand up to a Red rocket!

Beautifully steered into the gap by Benny Symon

Baggy purples presented to Ross, Steve and Charlie in a moving pre match ceremony
Benny Symon (SC) arriving in the nick of time to take the second over with the new ball
Branford offering some generous bowling but cutting his debt with sharp fielding
Encouraging debut performance by Ross "Kitchen Wizard" Eckersley
Impressive bowling performance by the Knuckster including a wicket maiden first up
Akshay lulling the batsman into a false sense of security before tossing up a perfect floater for Benny to pounce on and whip off the bails
Eddo showing some form as the team's orthodox spinning option
Charlie Craig taking to bowling like a fish to water - 2 wickets in 2 overs
Missed catches and vacant outfielders allow the Xaverians to collect a tidy 5.5 an over
Freshly cut oranges make for an energising afternoon tea
A steady opening stand between Eddo and Frazee promises but ultimately fails to deliver the solid platform that we were looking for Frazee's unorthodox batting angles creating some confusion
Seb bouncing around at the crease like the proverbial cat on a hot tin roof
Benny revealing glimpses of his awesome hitting power in his new role of Number Five
Steve Knuckey's quick sprints between wickets
Renato and Shumpah - large of frame but small of score
Chatty little Xaverian proving very annoying

Harry Trott's strip surviving Thursday's sudden downpour
 Benny's Blues - bat and ball refusing to co-operate with each other
 Eddo's elegant driving suggesting a promising top order future
 Fraser the Amazer skilfully picking the ripe fruit from the sideboard
 Charlie's devil-may-care attitude - confidently charging the medium pacers
 Seb cutting loose with some powerful strokeplay—including the on drive of the season
 Akshay displaying a full range of shots—but most within a three metre radius...
 Remy's GPS in need of recalibration... searching for Harry Trott in Glen Waverley and misjudging the location of the fence....
 Branford scoring runs and edging Ricky Ponting closer to retirement...
 Kade entertaining the capacity crowd with some good old fashioned slogging
 Renato all padded up with nowhere to go...
 Remy's pace and bounce causing problems for the Melburnians—and for Seb in slip!
 Branford working up some serious pace
 The Oriental Express keeping to the tracks but surprising the umpire's knee with a wayward ball
 The Lions' confident catching of the high ball - Eddo, NATO, Frase & Benny Another packet of licorice allsorts from Fish - wides, no balls, boundaries and a wicket!
 Akshay continuing to confound the pundits with a first ball wicket
 Eddo, not to be outdone, also pinning a batsman first delivery
 Jiggles taking a dive at mid off to effect a sharp catch
 Benny (SC) regaining credibility with tidy keeping and near thing stumping attempts
 The Lions generous offer of bonus overs to the defeated opposition backfires....
